The Western SCHOLAR

volume 1 number 1 Fall 2000

The spirit of scholarship & research at Western Kentucky University

2 Mr. Neutron

By Tommy Newton

Dr. George Vourvopoulos could determine whether a regular cola or diet cola was inside a box, using a pulsed-neutron emitting probe.

6 The Elusive Intangible Intelligence

By Matt Batcheldor

The study of EQ (Emotional Intelligence) has become popular of late, because it completely shatters earlier impressions of intelligence.

10 The Center for Gifted Studies

By Erik Meadors

The Center's mission statement echoes Dr. Julia Roberts' own commitment—to encourage excellence by providing educational opportunities and resources.

14 Electric Opera

By Mattias Karén

At first glance, he doesn't look like a music composer. His looks imply Metallica, but his works more resemble Mozart.

18 Bridging Cultures

By Bob Skipper

Haiwang Yuan has been in the U.S. since receiving a Fulbright Grant in 1988. While he and his family have adapted to the American way of life, he still maintains contacts in China.

22 Friends

By Tommy Newton

Donna Gregory found the graduate program in applied experimental psychology to be a perfect fit with her interest in young children.

24 The Man Behind the Patch

By Angela Burnett

For Dr. Frank Etscorn, an invention came from a simple laboratory blunder.

26 Student-Centered Scholarship

By Doug McElroy

"The whole art of teaching is only the art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying it afterwards." Anatole France
